To the HRTO Registrar,

I believe the following researchers would be interested in participating in the formulation of the Information Sharing Agreements (ISA) if the opportunity was available to them. I would like to submit this Form 12: Request For a Tribunal Ordered Inquiry, and request the following researchers be given permission to participate in the formulation of the requested ISAs, in whichever ways they would like, if they would like. I believe these researchers are essential to the quality assurances I respectfully demand for the ISAs.

Dr. Andrew Crosby

Andrew (Andy) Crosby (he/him) is a postdoctoral researcher in the Department of Geography and Environmental Studies at Carleton University, on unceded and unsurrendered Algonquin land.

He completed his Ph.D. in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology at Carleton University. His research engages with various themes relating to policing and housing justice—including settler colonialism, the financialization of rental housing, insecurity governance, gentrification/evictions, social movements, and tenant resistance.

Working with Dr. David Hugill, Andy's postdoctoral research involves leading the Housing Finance node as part of a CMHC-SSHRC-funded partnership grant—A Safe and Affordable Place to Call Home: A Multi-disciplinary Longitudinal Outcomes Analysis of the National Housing Strategy. Source.

Dr. Nav Persaud

Dr. Nav Persaud is the Canada Research Chair in Health Justice, Staff Physician in the Department of Family and Community Medicine at St. Michael's Hospital in Unity Health Toronto, and Associate Professor in the Department of Family and Community Medicine at the University of Toronto.

His research focuses on health equity or fairness, especially as it related to medicine access (cleanmeds.ca). He also compares national essential medicines lists in collaboration with the World Health Organization (essentialmeds.org). Source.

Dr. Charles Levkoe

Charles Levkoe is the Canada Research Chair in Equitable and Sustainable Food Systems, the Director of the Sustainable Food Systems Lab and a Professor in the Department of Health Sciences at Lakehead University. His community engaged research uses a food systems lens to better understand the importance of, and connections between social justice, ecological regeneration, regional economies and active democratic engagement.

Working directly with a range of scholars and community-based practitioners across North America and Europe, Dr. Levkoe studies the evolution of the broader collective of social movement networks that views the right to food as a component of more sustainable futures.

Mobilizing his existing partnerships, Dr. Levkoe integrates his research and teaching through community engaged learning pedagogies and supports students, community-partners and scholars to be actively involved in knowledge co-generation. Through community-based, action-oriented inquiry and teaching and the development of placed-based action projects, his research contributes to critical discussions that inform theory, civil society action and public policy. I'm relying on the document titled, '3.5 Years of Rejections.pdf', in which I've previously submitted to the HRTO in File #: 2024-57438. I will also provide a copy of this file here for the doctors, so they know what I'm talking about, as I've not published this document anywhere online. This document will also show the Tribunal the efforts I've already made to bring these researchers together. This document should help support my claims that I need legal intervention in order to even just measure health outcomes in Simcoe County.

I'm hoping the HRTO will grant the ISAs because they are imperative to the respondent's accountability measures that will surely be implemented at some point during this HRTO process.

Thank you for your time and consideration in my request for many quality assurances.

Sincerely,

Leah Dyck
