

These are just some messages I received from tenants in Simcoe County in the last month, after trying to let people know that the respondents are “over-charging” thousands of RGI tenants. If Barrie Housing is such a blessing to the community like Nikki Cole says they are, why did I receive all these messages in only a month?

[Redacted] I am a single mom living through BMNPH I see multiple frauds in my area . They don't do nothing 😞

[Redacted] What we need to do is get everyone that has been unlawfully treated as tenants through BMNP and take them to court I know myself from my area I have at least four to five people that are wanting to go up against these people .

Hey Leah, I seen ur posts. I'm still in housing I actually lived at [Redacted] there, not sure if you remember me lol I was just wondering how I would know if they over charged me during the pandemic. At one point I was working so I was paying a lot in rent and would like to know if they were over charging me?

Good morning, can you explain to me how you figure out if housing is stealing money from tenants? I've tried going through all your posts, but I don't understand a lot of it. I lost my ODSP in April as my family dr went MIA - end when renewal happened, with no income, my monthly rent went up, even though I have zero income

Everyone wants to know if they were overcharged because no one was provided with tenant ledgers.

How does rent go up if someone has zero income?

Oh well, I guess she can just get evicted then, and if she tries to tell anyone, they ignore her or accuse her of lying.

Hi Leah,

I just read one of your posts about being over charged for rent geared to income. How did you figure this out?

A completely different issue all together but still something my sister and I have been wanting to somehow address is the amount of people who are over housed and taking up space for women and children who really need it.

For example: my sister's neighbor is an elderly woman who is unable to care for herself and should be in an assisted living facility, however, she is living in a 2-3 bedroom townhouse by herself! I brought this to the attention of my worker and her response was there just isn't enough housing and we can't kick people out of their home. While I agree to both, there is definitely a crisis shortage of housing and we cannot kick people out of their homes we certainly can make sure that people are not taking up more housing than they require.

Would love to hear your feedback on this and if you are interested in trying to pursue this further with me?

There was a tenant. I tagged her in your post. She was my neighbor. They legit had a employee stealing her rent cheque's and cashing them for 6 months . They tried with me I paid online and every year I'd get a N4 for unpaid rent . They upped from rent from 1200 to 1500 this year . I ended up moving cause the mental and emotional damage living there was unreal

I keep reading your posts about this housing situation. I'm on [REDACTED] on housing. Are landlord Is trying very very hard to ( we believe) me and my neighbour (housing aswell) I have 3 kids, never did anything wrong. I don't drink or drug mind my business and so on. I do owe them money that I can't pay atm because it's so tight budget wise. But so far me and my neighbour know of 12 people who have been evicted from [REDACTED] for no apparent reason. I wondering if this is what you may be talking about?

We should chat about barrie housing. I lived at [REDACTED] and am currently being sued for [REDACTED] that was their fault. I have much information that might help you further your cause.

They also aren't moving their housing lists up anymore. So many vacant units and so many people sitting waiting still 😞
